IRON MAN RULES ROUMANIA WITH MARTIAL LAW

Declaring martial law upon the death of King Ferdinand of Rumania and the accession of the six-year-old King Michael I to the throne, Premier Ion Brătianu—known the "iron man" of the nation—has thrown troops around public buildings in Bucharest, controlling the situation. He defied his enemy, Prince Carol, who gave up the throne in favor of his young son, to return to Rumania even to attend the funeral of his father. Photo shows the Romanian House of Parliament, where the boy king was crowned. Just is of Brătianu.

Marion Rural Mailmen Hold Enviably Record for Safety Over Quarter Century

MARION'S rural mail carriers, known what might be called an unusual as well as enviable record of caution in this day of heavy motor traffic and increasing crossing tolls, in that during the quarter of century that there has been rural service out of the Marion Postoffice only one fatality has occurred.

Every working day of the year the carriers on the night routes out of the local postoffice cover a total mileage of 222 miles by motor and on foot and receive a total of 150,000 letters, telegrams and railroad mailings.

Taking the record reliable for rural carriers as a basis for computing the total mileage and number of crossings covered by the rural carriers during the 25 years the figures disclose that more than 1,750,000 miles have been covered and that crossings on the routes have been negotiated more than 670,000 times.

These figures are reached by multiplying the average number of working days, 290, by the daily mileage and crossings covered and then multiplying that total by 25, the number of years that service has been carried into the rural sections of the county.

One Must Be Clear
The men don't carry the left hand foot of a rabbit nor any other talisman, at least they don't admit it, and none of them owns up to leading charmed lives. "It's just luck, I guess," is the opinion of Edw. W. Smith, of Route 5, who has been on the job for 12 years. James S. Whaley, of Route No. 2, who has a record of 22 years in the service, and crosses 22 tracks in his day's journey, never forgets when he comes to a crossing, "I always have made it a practice," he Whaley said, "when I'm alone or with some one to see for myself whether or not the coast is clear." The rural mail carrier has his own troubles and minor accidents, such as tire trouble, and in the days of the horse-drawn vehicles, falls, are all in a day's work, but he sure has his eye to the ground when it comes to careful driving and careful crossings.

A butterfly draws her antennae from the flowers, but a grub has to be content with the leaves.

Do You Know The Name of This Marion Industry? It Employs 375 Men and Women—Weekly Payroll $11,000

As a city, we are ever eager to attract new industries, for we know that this means growth and prosperity for all of us. Any industry in Marion which is capable of employing 375 people means more business for all the city and the city is bigger and larger because that industry is a part of it. Did you ever think of the MARION PURE FOOD DEALERS in this way? In their force they employ 375 men and women with a payroll, each week, which amounts to more than $11,000. Everyone of these people spends the money he makes here. He supplies his needs from other merchants, builds a home, pays taxes, and supports the city in general. Everyone of these persons are good citizens of Marion. Almost every clerk is looking forward to the time when he may own a store of his own. Consequently he is eager to please and anxious to be of service to every customer.

Children who are sent for food to any store operated by the MARION PURE FOOD DEALERS always receive the same courteous consideration which would be extended to their mothers. In fact, no matter whether the provisions are ordered by the housewife in person, by sending a child, or by using the convenient telephone, the service is just the same. Anyone of these dealers will gladly rectify any mistake which occurs, or supply a new article in place of any product which is not completely satisfactory.

ASSESSMENT SCHEDULE ON ROAD APPROVED

Action Taken by County Commissioners on Boundary Line Improvement

The schedule of assessments for financing Marion County's share of the cost of improving the boundary line road between Marion and Crawford counties was formally approved by the board of commissioners here yesterday. Similar action was taken at a meeting of the Crawford County commissioners in Marion. Hearings were held by both boards to give property owners an opportunity to file objections. No objections were filed with the Marion County commissioners.

The next step will be taken at a meeting of the two boards, when plans for financing will be completed. An issue of bonds will be necessary.

Following completion of the financing plans, bids will be received and the contract awarded. It is expected that the work will be completed this year.

TRUCK DRIVER PAYS $10 FINE FOR SPEEDING

Harold Coffey Arrested by Chief Thompson on Bellefontaine-av

It was Harold Coffey, driver of a light delivery truck, $10.20 to indulge in a burst of speed on Bellefontaine yesterday afternoon. Coffey told Chief of Police Thompson, who picked him up at the intersection of Bellefontaine and Grand, that he was late with his work. According to the chief, Coffey was driving between 35 and 40 miles an hour.

He pleaded guilty to speeding when arrested before Judge Martin in municipal court and was fined $10 and costs which he paid and was released. Complaints made by residents of Bellefontaine at the speed at which automobiles, especially light delivery trucks, are driven near the street, have led police to make a special effort to break up the practice.

DIRIGIBLE AS TRANSOCEANIC CARRIER SEEN

U. S. Bureau of Standards
Working on Hydrogen-
Burning Motors

Washington, July 22.—Hydrogen-burning motors for dirigible balloons may be the next contribution of science to the commercial conquest of the air.

Experiments have been started at the U. S. Bureau of Standards on a novel type of combustion which permits the use of a combination of gasoline and hydrogen as fuel, it was learned today.

With the loss of weight by consumption of gasoline under present conditions it is necessary to discharge considerable quantities of the gas consumed in the flames.

Scientists are working to develop a carburetor and motor into which can be fed the excess hydrogen from the balloons, thus utilizing what has been a loss, adding to the power of the fuel.

See Lighter Craft
Hydrogen-burning motors for dirigible balloons may be the next contribution of science to the commercial conquest of the air. Experiments have been started at the U. S. Bureau of Standards on a novel type of combustion which permits the use of a combination of gasoline and hydrogen as fuel, it was learned today.

Government experts anticipate that the first practical use of hydrogen combustion will be done by dirigible balloons. It was pointed out that when flying and landing problems must be solved before the airplane is practically successful as a transoceanic transport, the dirigible can meet this situation much as the ocean liner simply by carrying more fuel.

Practicality must be made for the comfort and entertainment of passengers if the transoceanic transport are to become popular. The power balance of the dirigible is a factor in the design of the motor. The greater safety of the dirigible also is an important advantage.

A ground report is desirable, though the dirigible is a craft that is to be used in the air.

MAD DOG BITES NINE-YEAR-OLD DECLIFF GIRL

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roux Victim; Receiving Treatment

The nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roux is receiving the Pasteur treatment at her home near 1st and 10th streets, following the bite of a mad dog which occurred Wednesday.

Technical information showing that the animal which attacked the Roux child was infected with rabies came from the state board of health yesterday. The dog was killed immediately after the girl was bitten and the head taken to the state laboratory at Columbus for examination. Yesterday, Dr. S. S. Smith, county health commissioner, received an official report of the examination showing that the animal had undoubtedly been infected with rabies.

Attacked in Yard
The girl was attacked as she stepped from her home into the yard, Wednesday, the dog biting her left hand and right leg. The lacerations were not large, however, and it is believed that prompt application of the Pasteur treatment will prevent serious developments.

Dr. Smith was notified at once and had Dr. C. E. Smith accompany him to the home. Although it was not certain then that the dog was infected with rabies, the Pasteur treatment was started at once.

The dog had been killed by the girl's father before the arrival of health commissioner Smith and Dr. Smith. Dr. Smith took the animal's head to the laboratory.
